Photo from "The Last Frontier" by Bergit Anderson. Caption reads "Effie was moved up to the railroad tracks in 1918" Actually there were at least two commercial buildings at this location by 1915. The Post office moved here in 1918 so that would be the "official" date of movement. Note the RR crossing sign, and RR station on right. I believe this photo was taken by someone standing on Highway 1 facing west. Effie Cafe now sits on the RR grade just behind the RR crossing sign.
